The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to that of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

7. If after test any consignment is pronounced by the Chemical Examiner to be not commercially pure, notice shall be given to the importer to destroy the consignment within seven days, and if the importer fails to do so, the Collector of Customs shall cause the consignment to be destroyed by immersion in at least twenty times its bulk of water.

No. 135Marine.—Notification.—The following revised Notification isissued in supersession of this Department Notification No. 125Marine, dated the 10th October 1903, published on page 1347, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th October 1903:—

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 6, sub-section (1), clause (p), sub-clause (i) of the Indian Ports Act, 1889, as amended by the Indian Ports Act, 1901, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules for regulating the action to be taken with respect to vessels entering or being in any port in the Province of Bengal to which the Act extends, with persons suffering from dangerous, infectious or contagious diseases common in India, and with respect to dead bodies on board of such vessels.

W. A. INGLIS,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Section I.—For the giving of Notice.

1. The Master of every vessel on board of which there is, or has been during the previous twelve days, either among the passengers or crew, any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, chicken-pox, or other dangerous infectious or contagious disease, declared by the Governor-General in Council to be common in India, or, in the case of a vessel not carrying a doctor, any death from any cause, shall report every such case or death to the Pilot or other boarding officer at the earliest opportunity.

2. In the absence of a Pilot or other boarding officer, or, if the vessel be at anchor within port limits when such death occurs, or such disease first breaks out, the Master of every vessel shall hoist a signal which shall be, during the day, flag L* of the Commercial Code at the main, and during the night, two white lights, one above the other and six feet apart at the fore.

* This is a square flag of yellow and black borne quarterly.

3. The Pilot or other boarding officer shall promptly report the circumstances of the case to the Port Officer, who will at once forward any report so made, or give notice of any signal hoisted in pursuance of rule 2 to the Port Health Officer, and, if he considers it necessary, to the local sanitary authority.

4. The Pilot on receiving the notice under rule 1, shall hoist a signal which shall be, during the day, flag L of the Commercial Code at the main, and during the night, two white lights, one over the other and six feet apart at the fore, and shall telegraph from the nearest telegraph office, the number of cases of dangerous infecticus or contagious diseases, on board and the number of deaths from such causes that may have occurred during the voyage. This information shall be sent—

At Calcutta	To the Port Officer.
„ Chittagong	„ the Port Health Officer.
„ the Cuttack and Balasore ports ...	„ the Collector of the District and the Port Officer, Chandbali.

5. The officer receiving the information shall, in the case of small-pox, immediately communicate it to the police.

Section II.—Berthing of the Vessels.

6. If the number of deaths, or cases of disease referred to in rule 1, does not exceed two, the vessel will not be prohibited from taking up the usual place of anchorage in the harbour, except that she may not enter the docks (where there are docks) without written permission of the Port Health Officer and the passengers or crew not suspected of having any of the diseases described in rule 1 need not (except in the case of pilgrim and emigrant ships) be detained on board pending the inspection of the Port Health Officer, but the Master of the vessel will be held responsible that no one of the passengers or crew having, or suspected of having, any such disease, is allowed to depart before this inspection, and shall also prevent the landing of infected bedding, clothes, or other personal effects, which he has reasonable cause to consider likely to be infected.

7. If the number of deaths within the previous twelve days has exceeded two, or the cases of any such disease are, or have been during the previous twelve days, more numerous than two, and when from their occurring on pilgrim or emigrant ships, or for other special reasons, further precautions may be deemed advisable, the Master shall hoist the signals referred to in rule 2 above, and anchor the vessel in the place appointed for the purpose, and shall not allow any of the passengers or crew to leave the vessel until the Port Health Officer has made his inspection.

8. So long as the abovementioned signals are shown, no tindal or other person in charge of, or navigating any boat shall, without the permission of the Port Officer, attempt to make such boat fast to, or shall take it alongside, such vessel.

Section III.—The inspection of the Vessel.

9. Whenever the Port Health Officer receives the notice referred to in rule 4 above, he shall proceed without delay on board the vessel and examine her, and the Master shall give him every facility for the examination of the passengers, crew, personal effects, cargo, and any part of the ship. In the case of a report of a death or deaths from any cause on a ship not carrying a doctor, he shall institute such enquiries as he may deem necessary to determine the cause of the death or deaths. If he is satisfied that the death or deaths was or were not due to cholera, small pox, measles, chicken-pox, or other dangerous, infectious or contagious disease declared by the Governor-General in Council to be common in India, he shall permit the vessel to proceed to anchorage and to discharge passengers and cargo without any further restrictions. If he is not so satisfied, he shall proceed as provided in rule 12 et seq. of these rules. The inspection by the Port Health Officer will ordinarily take place between sunrise and sunset.

10. On the completion of the inspection provided for in rule 9, such of the passengers and crew as are found to be free from any of the abovementioned diseases and unlikely to carry infection, shall be allowed to land. All baggage, personal effects, and cargo, except such articles, as the Port Health Officer is entitled to disinfect, may also be landed.

11. If a case of any of the diseases mentioned in rule 1 happens on any vessel, after she has entered dock or has been moored at a wharf, the Master shall forthwith cause information thereof to be given to the Dock Master or Superintendent of the wharf, and shall be responsible that the sick person shall be isolated as much as possible, and that free communication with the wharf is stopped until the Port Health Officer has inspected the vessel and enquired into the case.

Section IV.—The taking of the sick to Hospital.

NOTE.—The regulations in sections 4, 5 and 6 should be carried out only when the Port Health Officer considers them necessary to prevent the spread of disease.

12. When the Port Health Officer considers it necessary, in order to prevent the spread of any dangerous infectious or contagious disease, he may inspect the vessel, including the passengers and crew, and may arrange, for the conveyance of all persons suffering, or suspected by him to be suffering, from such disease to a sanitarium or hospital, unless the sick person or his friends can make adequate provision elsewhere.

13. The removal of passengers is not to be enforced in the case of persons bound for an onward port, unless under the clearest necessity; and of every such case a special report explaining the reasons for the action taken must be submitted to the Government.

14. The Port Health Officer shall inform the Municipal Health Officer in all cases in which he arranges for the conveyance of a patient to a sanitarium or hospital or other place within municipal limits, and shall furnish the address of any private accommodation to which he permits the removal of a patient.

15. Where small-pox is the disease, on account of which the vessel is deemed infected, the Port Heath Officer shall offer, without charge, vaccination or re-vaccination of all persons willing to be operated upon, and shall cause to be vaccinated, with the consent of their guardians, all children below ten years and over six months of age who do not bear marks of vaccination or of small-pox.

Section V.—The disinfection of infected articles.

16. The Port Health Officer shall, if he considers it necessary, either himself undertake, or direct the Master of the vessel to undertake, the destruction or disinfection of all clothing, bedding, and other articles of personal use which have been used by any person suffering from any of the diseases abovementioned and are, or are likely to have been, soiled with infective matter or to retain infection.

17. When a vessel with one or more of the abovementioned diseases on board has passengers in a filthy and unwholesome condition, the Port Health Officer may cause the clothing and personal effects of such persons to be disinfected before allowing their disembarkation.

18. In the case of undecked native craft, the Port Health Officer may direct the disinfection, or in special cases the destruction, of food-stuffs which have been exposed to contamination and he thinks likely to be infected.

Section VI.—The disinfection of the infected parts of a Vessel.

19. The Port Health Officer shall as the result of the examination made under rule 9 above, direct the disinfection of any portion of the ship that has actually been exposed to contamination, and may prohibit the discharge of bilge water or water ballast within port limits. If the disease is cholera, the Port Health Officer may direct the Master to have the bilges and water-tanks emptied and cleaned.

Section VII.—Disposal of dead bodies.

20. Dead bodies shall be disposed of as follows:—

(1) If a death occurs on board a vessel before the vessel enters port limits, the body shall be buried at sea, in not less than 9 fathoms of water, in such a manner as shall insure its sinking at once and remaining below water.

As exceptions to the foregoing rule:—

(a) At Calcutta, if a death occurs on board a vessel after passing Saugor and the vessel is not reaching Calcutta the same day, the body shall, with the permission of the Magistrate of Diamond Harbour, be buried at that place; if the vessel is arriving at Calcutta the same day, the body shall be kept on board until the Port Health Officer has determined the nature of the disease and has had made arrangements for burial or cremation on shore. The Pilot shall telegraph particulars both to the Port Officer and Health Officer of the Port. The Port Officer, on receiving the information, shall at once communicate it to the Deputy Commissioner of Police.

(b) At Chittagong, if a death occurs on board a vessel after entering the river and before she has entered port limits, the body shall be kept on board, until the Port Health Officer has determined the nature of the disease and has had made arrangements for burial or cremation on shore.

(2) If a death occurs during the day on board a vessel within port limits, the ensign and house flag are to be immediately lowered half-mast, and kept in such position from sunrise to sunset as long as the body remains on board. If a death occurs between sunset and sunrise, one red light is to be hoisted at the peak half-mast.

(3) The Master of the vessel will cause the death of any person on board to be made known at once to the police, either by letter or otherwise, and shall also forward to the Port Officer a written report as soon as possible after the occurrence, in which all the circumstances attending the death are to be fully detailed.

(4) No dead body is to be removed from the ship, within port limits, without the permission of the police authorities which shall not be given until the Port Health Officer has determined the cause of death Unless the special permission of the senior officer of police at the port to its interment on shore shall have been obtained, a dead body shall be buried at sea, in not less than 9 fathoms of water, in such manner as shall insure its sinking at once and remaining below water.

Section VIII.—General.

21. The Master of a vessel coming under these rules shall comply with all the directions which the Port Health Officer considers it necessary to give under the foregoing rules.

22. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to prevent a vessel, whose Master is unwilling to submit to the above regulations, from proceeding to sea, provided that there has been no communication between such vessel and the shore or with other vessels in the port.

APPENDIX A.

I.—Personal effects such as rags, bandages, papers, and other articles of no value which the Port Health Officer believes are likely to carry infection should be burned.

II.—Underclothing, bedding, wearing apparel, mattresses, carpets, etc., which are contaminated or are suspected to be contaminated, should be exposed for 15 minutes to saturated steam at a temperature of not less than 212°F., (100C.), care being taken that the steam shall reach all parts of the article to be disinfected.

III.—The disinfectants to be used are the following:—

(1) A solution of corrosive sublimate 1 part in 1,000 of pure water*, with the addition of 5 parts in 1,000 of common salt (Chloride of Sodium). This solution should be tinted by the addition of aniline blue or indigo. It should not be brought in contact with metals.

* Preferably distilled or rain water.

(2) A solution in water of clear carbolic acid. This solution should contain 5 parts of phenol in 100 parts of water.

(3) A solution containing 5 parts of commercial carbolic acid, free from tar oils, in 95 parts of a warm solution of soft soap.

(4) Lime wash, prepared as follows :—

Take a quantity of good quick-lime weighing two pounds and slake it by the gradual addition of about half a pint of water. The lime becomes hot, gives off steam and falls to a powder. This powder, if not used at once, should be kept in an air-tight vessel in a dry place. For use, the quantity of slaked-lime obtained from two pounds of quick-lime should be placed in a convenient vessel and water added to make one gallon. Whenever possible, freshly slaked-lime should be used to make the lime wash.

Special instructions to be observed in the use of the disinfecting solutions.

IV.—Linen, clothing and articles which have been soiled by the discharges and excretions of patients should be soaked in the solution of corrosive sublimate* or in one of the carbolic acid solutions for at least six hours.

V.—Articles which cannot, without injury, be exposed to a temperature of 212°F., such as leather goods, wooden articles stuck with glue, felt, etc., should be washed with the solution of corrosive sublimate. Metal articles or any material which would be injured by contact with the solution of corrosive sublimate should be soaked in a solution of carbolic acid.

VI.—The lime wash is particularly recommended for disinfecting excreta.

VII.—Expectorated matter should be burnt.

VIII.—Attendants on the sick ought to take the precaution of washing their own hands and faces with the solution of corrosive sublimate and afterwards with warm water.

Disinfection of ships.

IX.—The cabins, forecastles, holds, water-closets or latrines occupied or used by persons suffering, or suspected to be suffering from an infectious disease, should be cleared out, and all the articles in them should be treated as directed above. Floors, walls and partitions should be disinfected with the solution of corrosive sublimate, care being taken that every part is scrubbed and washed until it has been thoroughly wetted by the disinfecting solution. Two hours afterwards the walls, etc., should be washed with clean water.

X.—In ships, in which cases of cholera have occurred, the drinking water should be pumped out and the water tanks and casks disinfected with solution of permanganate of potash acidulated with hydrochloric acid, before fresh drinking water is taken on board.

Disinfection of the bilges of an infected ship.

XI.—Sulphate of iron in quantity sufficient to neutralize the sulphuretted hydrogen should first be thrown in: the bilge should then be pumped out and flushed with sea water. After the sea water has been pumped out, a suitable quantity of corrosive sublimate solution should be thrown in. The bilge water should not be pumped out within port limits without the authority of the Port Health Officer.

* The same solution, even if it remains clear, should not be used more than three times, since the corrosive sublimate will be removed from the solution in combination with the organic matter in the clothing.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORTS ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH JUNE, 1903.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 10th November 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 2605.

READ—

The Reports on Inland Emigration for the year ending the 30th June, 1903, submitted by the Superintendents of Emigration, Calcutta, Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau, and Manbhum and Singhbhum, and the Travelling Superintendent of Emigration, Bengal and the Central Provinces.

The remarks of the Commissioners of the Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions on the reports submitted by the Superintendents in their respective Divisions.

The reports on Inland Emigration for the year ending the 30th June, 1903, were due to Government on the 1st September, 1903, but those of the Superintendents of Emigration, Calcutta and the Sonthal Parganas, and of the Travelling Superintendent of Emigration, Bengal and the Central Provinces, were received some time after that date. The attention of Government has been drawn by the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, to the difficulties which are at present experienced by him in furnishing his report by the prescribed date, and steps are being taken to remove the causes of delay and to enable him to submit his report punctually in future.

Working of Act VI of 1901.

2. Two important matters were brought prominently to the notice of Government during the year, viz., (1) the need to enforce the principle that emigrants should be registered in the districts of recruitment and (2) the desirability of checking the recruitment of emigrants by arkatis and other persons who are not bonâ-fide garden-sardars within the meaning of Act VI of 1901.

As regards the first point, the attention of Registering Officers and Superintendents of Emigration was drawn to the orders which were passed when the Act was first introduced, to the effect that, when emigrants, who are presented for registration, do not belong to the local area in respect of which a recruiter is licensed, care should be taken to see that such emigrants have been recruited directly by the recruiter himself, and that no intermediary has been employed by him. At the same time, it was explained that, if it appeared that an intending emigrant had been residing in the district of recruitment for some time before he was presented for registration, there would be primâ facie no ground for suspecting that any improper procedure had been adopted in connection with his recruitment; but that if, on the other hand, it was shown that an intending emigrant had recently arrived in such a district, a presumption would ordinarily arise that his recruitment had not been legitimately effected, and careful enquiry would be necessary.

The second matter was partially dealt with in last year's Resolution reviewing the Reports on Inland Emigration for the half-year ending 30th June, 1902. In that Resolution it was observed that persons formerly employed as arkatis, or unlicensed recruiters, were being sent to Assam in order that they might be sent back from the gardens as recruiting sardars. It was remarked that, provided that these men worked in conformity with the Act and the rules under the Act, no legal objection could be taken to their employment as garden-sardars. During the year under review, this matter was reconsidered, and it was held, with the concurrence of the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Assam, that, though no hard-and-fast rule could be laid down prohibiting the granting of sardari certificates to persons who had once been arkatis, the fact that a man had worked in that capacity would primâ facie be a ground for refusing to allow him to act as a garden-sardar. On the other hand, it would be open to an employer to prove that a man, who once had been an arkati, had since become a bonâ-fide garden-sardar.

The attention of the Lieutenant-Governor having also been drawn to the fact that men, who had been employed on tea-gardens for a few days only, were being sent down as certificated garden-sardars, the opinion was expressed, with the concurrence of the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Assam, that such a procedure was beyond the intention of the Act, and that certificates should be only given to bonâ-fide garden-sardars, i.e., to persons bonâ fide employed on an estate and deputed by an employer to engage labourers, and not to men who had worked on a garden for a few days only. In this connection, it has also lately been held, on a further consideration of the subject, that though no hard-and-fast rule can be laid down as to the length of time for which emigrants must have served in a garden before a certificate, granted by an employer under section 56 of the Act, can be countersigned by an Inspector or Magistrate, such officers would be perfectly justified in refusing to countersign the certificate of a man who had not been employed, or had not worked, in a garden bonâ fide as a cooly or a garden-sardar, but was suspected to have been enlisted for the purpose of recruiting only. It has, however, been pointed out that these orders, as also those referred to in the preceding clause, principally concern the officers countersigning certificates of garden-sardars in the labour districts, and that countersignature should not be withheld in the recruiting districts, under section 61 of the Act, unless there are primâ-facie reasons which would justify a refusal.

A notification under section 90 of the Act was issued during the year permitting, subject to the provisions contained in clauses (a) to (i) of the section, specially-employed garden-sardars, not being garden-sardars holding certificates under Chapter IV of the Act, to recruit emigrants in the Sonthal Parganas and the districts of Hazaribagh and Manbhum for any of the labour districts of Assam, instead of for the districts of Cachar and Sylhet only, as hitherto.

Number of emigrants.

3. During the year under review, altogether 27,589 emigrants of all classes were despatched to the labour districts from Goalundo, as against 17,774 in the last six months of the previous year. No emigrants embarked at Jatrapur or Dhubri. Owing to the completion of the new railway route from Gitaldaha junction to Dhubri and the closing of the line from Kurigram to Jatrapur, the last-named place ceased to be a port of embarkation with effect from September, 1902. Of the 27,589 emigrants who embarked at Goalundo, 11,358 were recruited in Bengal and the rest in Madras and the Central Provinces. Of the total number of emigrants despatched to Assam during the year, 7,428, or 25·9 per cent., were recruited by licensed recruiters; 13,279, or 48·1 per cent., by garden-sardars working under Chapter IV of Act VI of 1901; and 1,867, or 6·7 per cent, by specially-employed garden-sardars working under sections 90 and 91 of Chapter V of the Act; while 5,015, or 18·2 per cent., proceeded to the labour districts under the provisions of section 92 of the Act. There was a noticeable decrease in the proportion of emigrants recruited by garden sardars and a corresponding increase in the number of persons recruited under section 92 of the Act, as compared with the figures for the preceding six months; the percentages being, as indicated above, 48·1 and 18·2, as against 79·5 and 2·6, respectively.

Recruiting agencies.

4. It is observed that, during the year under report, no emigrants were recruited by garden-sardars, holding certificates under the Act, in any of the districts of the Orissa Division, whereas, in the year 1901, 31 per cent., and in the first half of the year 1902, 44 per cent., of the total number of emigrants recruited in that Division, were so recruited. The Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, attributes this change of procedure to the fact that employers find it more profitable and convenient to obtain their labour under the system permitted by section 92 of the Act, according to which only the transport of emigrants recruited is subject to regulation. Inasmuch as the districts of Orissa are not among those in respect of which prohibitory notifications have issued under section 3 of the Act, there is no legal objection to this procedure. No abuses have hitherto been reported, and, as long as that is the case, matters may well be left as they are.

Measures adopted to prevent irregular recruitment.

5. Certain orders passed during the year with the object of preventing irregular recruitment have been noticed in paragraph 2 above. Special care was taken during the year to prevent the occurrence of abuses in connection with the recruitment of women, and registration had to be refused in not a few such cases owing to the fact that the method of recruitment had been illegal.

Several instances of misconduct on the part of garden-sardars in the Singhbhum and Manbhum districts were brought to light. One sardar was imprisoned, and the licenses of several sardars were cancelled, on account of irregularities committed, while the registration of forty-seven emigrants had to be refused on account of illegal recruitment. In Ranchi and Palamau, the certificates of five sardars were cancelled for giving false descriptions of emigrants, while the registration of twenty-seven emigrants had to be refused owing to malpractices having been committed by sardars. In Hazaribagh, no instance of unauthorised recruitment or of any irregularity on the part of certificated or specially-employed garden-sardars came to light during the year under review. No prosecutions in connection with the sardari system of recruitment were reported from the Sonthal Parganas.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 19th March 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 1526L.R.

Read—

Letters Nos. 157A. and 187A., dated the 6th and 18th February 1902, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting the Final Reports by Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, I.C.S., on the Survey and Record-of-rights in the districts of Muzaffarpur and Champaran, with a copy of letters Nos. 1957S., dated the 4th November 1901, and 478T.S., dated the 31st October 1901, from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, reviewing the Reports.

Read also—

The Reports.

The Reports on the survey and settlement operations in the Muzaffarpur and Champaran districts, which have been written by Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, the Settlement Officer, were received more than a year ago in the Secretariat, and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets that pressure of business has prevented their being reviewed before the present date. Full summaries of the Reports were given in the covering letters submitted by Mr. P. C. Lyon, the Director of Land Records, and therefore His Honour considers that it will suffice in this Resolution to trace the history of the operations and to notice their most important features and the results which are presented in the Reports.

2. The operations in both districts began with the traverse survey in the year 1891-92, and were completed in the year 1899-1900. Their simultaneous inception was sanctioned in the Resolution of the Bengal Government, No. 1243L.R., dated 9th November 1891. The Reports contain discussions which are common to both districts and are written by one and the same Settlement Officer, who was in charge of the operations in both districts during the last three years of their continuance. It will therefore be convenient to deal with both Reports in this Resolution.

Reasons for undertaking the operations.

3. The survey and record-of-rights which have been made for the Muzaffarpur and Champaran districts are the first which have been undertaken in this Province for entire districts which are also permanently-settled. The reasons for undertaking the operations may be traced back to a recommendation made by the Famine Commission of 1881 to the effect that "the fundamental want in Bihar, as regards security of tenure, is an authoritative record of existing rents, supplemented by effectual measures for the prevention of arbitrary enhancement of these rents," and also to the discussions which preceded the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885. Provision was made in the Tenancy Act of 1885 enabling the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to direct that a survey and record-of-rights may be made in respect of any local area; and experimental operations which had been approved for the Patna Division by the Secretary of State in the year 1882 were begun in the Muzaffarpur district under Mr. E. W. Collin, I.C.S., as Settlement Officer, simultaneously with the passing of the Tenancy Act. The district of Muzaffarpur was selected for these experimental operations, on the ground that it was one of the least prosperous in Bihar, and that in it the relations of the people to the land were considered the least satisfactory; it was intended that the operations should be extended to other districts if they were found to be successful. The experimental operations, which were carried out without any friction or serious difficulty in 235 villages, were terminated in 1886 on the abandonment of the Patwari Bill of 1885 in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of State, and on the recommendation of the Government of India, on the ground that a survey and record-of-rights would constitute a waste of money, unless due provision could be made for keeping up to date the information which they would furnish.

4. Subsequently, however, owing to the success of the experimental operations under Mr. Collin, to the good results which had ensued owing to the extension of survey and settlement proceedings to wards' estates, and to a consequent strengthening of the opinion which existed as to the necessity for supplementing the operation of the Tenancy Act by a record of the rights and status of tenants, Sir Steuart Bayley again raised the question, and, in a letter, No. 3343 of 3rd September 1889, addressed to the Government of India, recommended the survey and settlement of the whole of the Patna Division, with power to exempt certain tracts for special cause shewn. The Government of India gave provisional sanction to this proposal, and in the first year of his Lieutenant-Governorship Sir Charles Elliott issued a Resolution, No. 1243L.R., dated 9th November 1891, which contained a full statement of the objects and intentions of Government in carrying out this undertaking. In a notification dated the 17th November 1891 a survey of the four districts of Muzaffarpur, Champaran, Saran, and Darbhanga was ordered. The settlement operations thus inaugurated have now been completed in Muzaffarpur and Champaran, and in Saran, except the printing of the completion Report, and it is expected that the operations in Darbhanga will be completed within the next nine months.

Opposition of landholders to the operations at their inception.

5. The landholders of Bihar, without support, however, from the indigo planters, maintained an opposition to the survey operations for some time; but when the full answers to their memorials were published in the Minutes, dated 24th June and 20th September 1893, of Sir Antony MacDonnell, the Acting Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and when it was realized that Government was determined to carry the measure through, opposition ceased, and while there was never any serious obstruction of the operations, there has during recent years been cordial co-operation of all classes. The good attendance of landlords and raiyats at the attestation camps and the popularity of the record as shewn by the demand for copies on payment are specially to be noticed.

Procedure.

6. The Settlement Officer has rightly given a full account of the procedure followed in the survey and settlement operations and of the difficulties met with. When the recent settlement operations were begun in Orissa and Bihar the settlement law and rules were new, the staff was inexperienced, and there was necessarily much discussion of methods and principles and many vexed questions had to be decided. The law and rules and forms for the record-writing have all been amended during recent years, and an experienced staff and establishment now carries on the settlement work. Mr. Stevenson-Moore's recital of the various important matters discussed and decided in connection with the settlement work in Bihar is not only interesting as showing the difficulties met and overcome, but will be helpful in the future. In this connection the discussions and decisions with regard to mapping of homesteads, survey and record-writing by local agency, entry of rents and status in the records, the khewat-writing, the zirat entries, the disputed entries, the entry of areas, the revision of former survey work, the decision of boundary disputes, the arrangements for attestation, the settlement of rents, the disentanglement of the abwab or illegal cesses, the treatment of "excess areas," and the treatment of compromises in rent cases are all matters which may be specially mentioned.

Results of the operations.

7. Before some of the prominent results of the operations are dealt with the principal statistics obtained for the two districts may be briefly stated.

General statistics.

8. Muzaffarpur has an area of 3,035 square miles with 4,505 villages; 80 per cent. of its area is cultivated. It had, when the settlement operations were completed, 25,308 estates (the number of which has since increased), revenue-paying and revenue-free, in which 163,933 proprietary interests were recorded. The average size of a revenue-paying estate was found to be 93 acres. Holdings were found to the number of 970,495 with an average size of 1·97 acres, and 4,413,567 plots were measured with an average size of ·44 of an acre.

Champaran has a total area of 3,531 square miles, but a tract of hill and jungle in the north-west corner of the district having been excluded from the operations, 3 250 square miles only were dealt with. The district has 2,846 villages, and 70 per cent. of its area is cultivated. In 1900-1901, it contained 1,307 estates with an average area of 1.608 acres and 7,150 proprietary interests; in the survey 400,592 holdings with an average size of 5·19 acres to a holding, and 2,807,976 plots with an average size of ·74 for a plot were recorded.

The greater development of the Muzaffarpur district, due to a denser population and to older cultivation, is noticeable in the above statistics.

Status of tenants.

9. Few difficulties were met with in recording status. In Muzaffarpur 82 per cent. and in Champaran 86 per cent. of the holdings are held by settled and occupancy raiyats. These statistics of status of tenants compare favourably with those of the neighbouring districts of the United Provinces.

Rents.

10. The average incidence of rent to the occupied acre is for the Muzaffarpur district Rs 3-13-5 and for Champaran Re. 1-13-9, and these rates represent about 16 per cent. and 11 per cent., respectively, of the gross yield. Abwab or illegal cesses were more common in Champaran than in Muzaffarpur. Produce-rents were not found to be very usual in either district, except in the case of holdings of under-raiyats. Rent-rates, where they exist, have often little or no relation to the quality of the soil.

Settlement of rents.

11. Cases for settlement of fair rents were instituted before the Settlement Officers in respect of only 3·23 per cent. of the holdings of tenants in Muzaffarpur, and rents were actually increased for only 1·3 per cent. of the holdings. In Champaran such cases were instituted in respect of 32·47 per cent. of the rent-paying holdings, and rents were actually increased in 20 7 per cent. of the holdings. In both districts there was little increase of rent, except on the ground of "excess area"; and the highor percentage of rents increased in Champaran is mainly due to recent extensions of cultivation in that district.

12. The Settlement Officers were called upon to report during the operations whether it was desirable that they should be empowered, under section 112 of the Tenancy Act, to settle rents without application and, if necessary, to reduce excessive rents. The reports did not disclose sufficient ground for taking such drastic measures. Reporting especially with regard to an estate in Champaran, where rents were unusually high, Mr. Stevenson-Moore stated that the rents, though high, could be paid, and added: "There are no indications of bitter disputes or insupportable oppression, such as would alone justify recourse to the provisions of section 112 of the Tenancy Act." The conclusion of the Settlement Department in this matter was that no sufficient reason had been shewn, while agricultural prices are steadily rising, for empowering Settlement Officers to settle all rents and to reduce excessive rents. If extreme circumstances should require this step to be taken hereafter in particular villages or particular estates, the information made available by the settlement operations will greatly help the Revenue Officer to perform this difficult task.

Conclusions as to the condition of the tenantry.

13. Mr. Stevenson-Moore's general conclusions with regard to the condition of the tenantry (which are to be found on pages 181 to 182 and on pages 361 to 365 of his Report on Muzaffarpur and on pages 130 to 131 and 170 to 171 of his Report on Champaran) are—that the general impression that the tenantry of Bihar are a down-trodden body of men in complete subservience to their landlords is only partially true; that this impression is correct with regard to the condition of low-caste raiyats, but that cultivators of higher caste are quite prepared to fight their landlord if he attempts to oppress them. Mr. Stevenson-Moore would accept it as a general truth that landlords in North Bihar are unusually powerful and their tenants unusually depressed and sometimes subservient, but he has also instances to give of "truculent" tenantry. Of the population of the district of Muzaffarpur generally, Mr. Stevenson-Moore says that it can be said with fair certainty that 90 per cent. live in normal years in a very moderate state of comfort, but he found indications of cultivators being starved out to make room for the increasing pressure on the soil of the inferior castes and of the landlord class. The average rent-rates in Champaran are very low, because the agricultural resources of the district are only half developed. The Champaran raiyat will not, says Mr. Stevenson-Moore, submit to an enhancement of his rent-rate. "He willingly gives a large salami or an increased rent on excess area, but if his landlord tries to enhance his rent-rate, he will fight or abandon his holding; and there being available land elsewhere, he is largely master of the situation." With a failure of the rice crop, this district, though it has a comparatively sparse population, was the first district in Bihar to succumb to the famine of 1896, and in Mr. Stevenson-Moore's opinion it is "infinitely the most backward district in the Patna Division."

14. Sir Charles Elliott took a more favourable view of the condition of the tenantry of these two districts on the information available when at the end of 1895 he last reviewed the settlement operations in these two districts. In the Resolution of Government, No. 5491L.R., dated 14th December 1895, when noticing a statement of status and rent of tenants for the three districts of Muzaffarpur, Champaran, and Saran, he stated as follows:—

"A study of this table throws a great deal of light on the agricultural economy of these districts, and tends to disperse many fallacies. The quantity of land held as proprietor's sir, and the area under non-occupancy tenants appear wonderfully small, compared with an average North-Western Provinces district The area under settled tenants is, on the other hand, very large, and testifies to the benefits conferred by the wise legislation of the Tenancy Act. The average rent-rate is extremely low in Champaran and not at all exceptionally high in Muzaffarpur. . . . . It is premature to formulate any definite conclusion from these tables till the figures are more accurately compiled and cover a large area; but so far as they indicate, they tend to dispel the impression that the North Bihar raiyat is a down-trodden and rack-rented creature. Every district in the North-Western Provinces would envy North Bihar the possession of such a large proportion of land held by settled raiyats, and most districts would think the average rent-rate fair and moderate."

15. Mr. Bourdillon is disposed to agree in Mr. Stevenson-Moore's estimate. The tenantry of both these districts are among the poorest in India. The Muzaffarpur raiyat has more staying power than the Champaran raiyat, perhaps because he tills better land, but also because he is a better cultivator, and because competition has developed his wit and resources. There are good and bad landlords in both districts; but the denser population of Muzaffarpur has given the landlord the advantage in that district.

Increase in litigation for recovery of rent and with regard to titles since the inception of the settlement operations.

16. A large increase in the number of suits for recovery of rent and with regard to title in land, which has occurred in the North Bihar districts as in other surveyed districts, since the inception of the settlement operations, attracted the late Lieutenant-Governor's attention, and has been carefully examined. It was noticed that, whereas in Bengal generally suits of all kinds under the rent laws have increased from 201,860 in 1891 to 302,484 in 1900, i.e., by 50 per cent., the increase in rent suits in the surveyed districts has been much greater. In the Judgeship of Tirhut (Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga), the number had risen from 5,173 in 1891 to 14,530 in 1900, and in the Judgeship of Saran (including Champaran) from 4,937 to 12,556. The number of title suits in the Province has increased from 36,936 in 1891 to 76,976 in 1900, but in Tirhut and Saran it has trebled itself. A similar increase of litigation under the rent law followed the survey operations which were carried out in the permanently-settled districts of the Benares Division in the years 1876 to 1886.

17. The reasons for the increased litigation about title are no doubt the same as were assigned in the case of the Benares Division, viz., that settlement operations bring disputes to a head, and it is necessary for the person who loses his case before the Revenue officer either to apply to the Civil Court or to lose his claim permanently. The reasons for the increased rent litigation are (1) that the record-of-rights prepared under the provisions of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act afford facilities to landlords in the recovery of their rents through the Courts; and (2) that the settlement proceedings and the possession of a title-deed in the copy of the record-of-rights have strengthened the tenant and have enabled him to withstand the illegal coercion which was formerly practised by the landlords without difficulty. In the statistics of more recent rent litigation for the surveyed districts there are indications that the increase in the number of such suits may have reached its maximum for the present.

18. In paragraphs 975 to 1036 of his Muzaffarpur Report Mr. Stevenson-Moore sums up the advantages derived by Government and by the landlords and tenants respectively from the survey and settlement operations. The uses of the settlement maps and records in the district administration are manifold under the heads of agricultural statistics, famine organisation, census, rural police arrangements, agricultural loans, land acquisition, land registration, estate management, partition, road-cess revaluation, the work of the Opium Department, and in the decision of disputes regarding land, rent and tenancy in the Criminal and Civil Courts. The tenants have received inestimable advantages in their lands and rents being authoritatively certified and in the stability of rents which has been assured to them. They have received the operations, the Settlement Officer says, with the liveliest feelings of satisfaction and gratitude, and the poorest among them came forward eagerly to pay the apportioned costs in order that they might obtain copies of the records of their holdings. The landlords have also received substantial advantages from the official record of fields and rents, which is not only of service to them where they are strong, but is also an insurance for the future when the cultivators may become more conscious of their strength. The record has enabled the landlords to obtain increased rents for excess areas held by tenants and has enabled them to identify lands held rent-free. To the landlords also the record is of great service to prevent or solve disputes with neighbouring landlords or co-sharers, in affording a check on the work of dishonest or inefficient servants, and in furnishing correct information for purposes of selling or investing in land. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees in the Settlement Officer's estimate of the advantages which have been obtained.

Advantages of the survey and record-of-rights to Government and to the landlords and tenants.

19. Mr. Stevenson-Moore has ably and lucidly discussed in these Reports many other important subjects which the Lieutenant-Governor can do no more than mention in this place. These are the old revenue histories of the two districts which had not been before written, the working of the Revenue Sale Law, the Land Registration and Partition Acts, the history of the measures taken early last century to help the landlords in their responsibility for the land revenue on account of the supposed recalcitrancy of the raiyats, the history of the protective measures taken and contemplated in favour of the raiyats, the history of patwaris and kanungos, the agriculture of the two districts, and especially the advantages and disadvantages to the tenantry and labouring classes of the indigo industry, the yield of crops and cost of cultivation, the cost of living and the transfers of rights in land. On these and other subjects the Reports will be, as the Board remark, most useful books of reference.

Other matters treated in the Reports

20. The total cost of the traverse and cadastral survey and initial record-writing in Muzaffarpur amounted, for an area of 1,942,324 acres, or 3,035 square miles, to Rs. 4,94,505, which gives a cost rate of Rs. 162-15 per square mile, or nearly annas 4-1 an acre. The expenditure on the settlement proceedings was as follows:—

Cost of the proceedings and recovery.

	Rs.
...	69,672
...	12,796
...	8,100
...	90,568

	Total cost.	Cost per square mile		Cost per acre.
	Rs.	Rs.	A.	A.	P.
Gross expenditure on an area of 1,921,375 acres, or 3,002 square miles, Rs. 6,41,275 minus the items noted in the margin ...	5,50,707	183	7	4	7

The total cost of the survey and record-of-rights amounted for this district to Rs. 346-6 per square mile, or about annas 8-8 an acre.

21. In Champaran the survey cost was Rs. 4,68,345 (or Rs. 142-12-7 to the square mile and As. 3-6 to the acre), and the settlement cost was Rs. 4,74,954 (or Rs. 146-2-7 to the square mile and As. 3-8 to the acre). The total cost of the operations therefore amounted to Rs. 9,43,299, which gives an average of 7 annas 2 pies an acre. But if, as in the case of Muzaffarpur, the receipts from court-fees, etc., which amounted to Rs. 99,424, be deducted, the net cost rate is reduced to Rs. 258-5-4 a square mile, or 6 annas and 6 pies an acre. The cost rate for this district is smaller than that for Muzaffarpur because of the sparser population and the larger fields.

22. One-fourth of the cost of the operations was borne by Government and the remaining three-fourths were recovered practically in full from the landlords and tenants (seven-sixteenths from the former and five-sixteenths from the latter). The success achieved in the recovery work altogether exceeded expectation, and is one of the most striking features of the operations. The Settlement Officer writes with natural enthusiasm on this subject as follows:—

"The cultivators flocked in a body to the recovery camps eager to pay their money and get their khatians. The sight was eloquent testimony of the boon they themselves believe to have been conferred on them by the survey and settlement operations Big landlords evinced the same eagerness to get their copies of the record of rights, and to decide on the claims of equal co-sharers for the single copy was often a matter of some difficulty."

In his Minute of September 1893, Sir A. MacDonnell cited an opinion given to him that the raiyats would be willing to pay four times the estimated cost of the survey operations, and the result has shown that this opinion was well founded.

Work of officers.

23. In concluding this brief notice of two excellent Reports, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his high appreciation of the labours of the Survey and Settlement Officers who have carried out this arduous undertaking. During the time that these operations were in progress, the Settlement Department was under the direction of Mr. W. C. Macpherson, C.S.I., for 4½ years, and of Mr. P. C. Lyon for 3 years. To the energy and ability of these two officers the success of the proceedings is largely due. The services of Colonel Sandeman and Major Crichton and their subordinates in the Survey Department have been constantly commended by Government. The Settlement Officers in Champaran and Muzaffarpur during the first three and-a-half years of the operations were Messrs. E. G. Colvin and P. C. Lyon respectively; they were succeeded early in 1896 by Mr. Stevenson-Moore, who was in charge in both districts until the end of the operations. All these three officers rendered zealous and able services, which will long be remembered in the scene of their labours. The Settlement Officers had able and enthusiastic assistants, among whom may be specially mentioned Mr. J. H. Kerr, Mr. R. B. Hughes, Babu Rai Krishna Bahadur, Babu Charu Chandra Kumar, Babu Bhupendranath Gupta, Pandit Ram Ballabh Misra, Maulvi Sayed Ahmed Ali Khan, Babu Hemanta Kumar Maitra, and Mr. Rowland Nagendra Lal Chandra. The services of all these officers will be noted in the Appointment Department.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

one in which a summons or warrant would ordinarily issue.

Inquiry by Magistrate.

(3) When such criminal appears or is brought before the Magistrate, the Magistrate shall inquire into the case in the same manner and have the same jurisdiction and powers, as nearly as may be, as if the case were one triable by the Court of Session or High Court, and shall take such evidence as may be produced in support of the requisition and on behalf of the fugitive criminal, including any evidence to show that the crime of which such criminal is accused or alleged to have been convicted is an offence of a political character or is not an extradition crime.

(6) The Magistrate shall report the result of his inquiry to the Government of India, or the Local Government, as the case may be, and shall forward, together with such report, any written statement which the fugitive criminal may desire to submit for the consideration of the Government.

Warrant for surrender.

(8) If, upon receipt of such report and statement or upon the decision of any such question, the Government of India or the Local Government, as the case may be, is of opinion that the fugitive criminal ought to be surrendered, it may issue a warrant for the custody and removal of such criminal and for his delivery at a place and to a person to be named in the warrant.

Power to Magistrate to issue warrant of arrest in certain cases.

7 (1) Where an extradition offence has been committed or is supposed to have been committed by a person, not being a European British subject, in the territories of any State not being a Foreign State, and such person escapes into or is in British India and the Political Agent in or for such State issues a warrant, addressed to the District Magistrate of any district in which such person is believed to be, for his arrest and delivery at a place and to a person or authority indicated in the warrant, such Magistrate shall act in pursuance of such warrant and may give directions accordingly.

Execution of such warrant.

(2) A warrant issued as mentioned in sub-section (1) shall be executed in the manner provided by the law for the time being in force with reference to the execution of warrants, and the accused person, when arrested, shall, unless released in accordance with the provisions of this Act, be forwarded to the place and delivered to the person or authority indicated in the warrant.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Report of the Indian Universities Commission, which has been published and submitted for the opinion, not only of Local Governments and officials, but also of representative bodies and the public generally, points out the defects of the present system of higher education and outlines a comprehensive scheme of administrative and legislative reform. The criticisms evolved by its publication have been carefully and anxiously considered, and the present Bill aims at conferring the legal authority necessary to give effect to the principles and the policy which the Government of India desire to see adopted in future. The experience of the last fifty years in India has proved that a system which provides merely for examining students in those subjects to which their aptitudes direct them, and does not at the same time compel them to study those subjects systematically under efficient instruction, tends inevitably to lower the standard of College education.

2. In dealing with the demand for teaching Universities, the Commissioners suggested the formation of central schools of advanced study, with provision for the residence of students. The Bill does not attempt to formulate any definite scheme in this connection, but clause 3 will confer upon all the Universities the requisite legal authority to make regulations relating to the promotion of advanced study and to the residence and conduct of students generally.

3. Following in the main the opinions of Local Governments, the Bill proposes to fix the number of Fellows, other than ex officio Fellows, at 100 in the case of the older Universities and at 75 in the case of the Punjab and Allahabad. As regards ex officio Fellows, the present numbers, which are shown in the margin, involve the double anomaly, first, that the Universities of the Punjab and Allahabad contain a disproportionately large number of such Fellows in comparison with the older Universities, and, secondly, that in those Universities the reformed Senates will be liable to be swamped by the ex officio Fellows, the number of whom can, under the existing Acts, be indefinitely increased at the discretion of the Local Government. At a time when it is proposed to reduce the Senates, it seems inexpedient to retain a power of making ex officio appointments of which it might be said that it would admit of being used to deprive the Senate of its representative character. Clause 5, therefore, proposes to limit the number of ex officio Fellows to ten.

Bombay ...	... 9
Madras ...	... 7
Allahabad ...	... 17
Punjab ...	... 14

4. All ordinary Fellows should, it is thought, hold office for five years, and should be eligible for re-appointment on the expiration of that period. In order to bring this state of things into operation with the minimum of confusion and inconvenience, it is proposed to appoint the new members of the Senate in the first instance for three years, after which for the next five years one-fifth of the number will retire each year, the individuals to retire being selected by ballot. Thus no Fellow will serve for less than three years; and at the end of seven years the normal constitution of the Senate, with its annual renewal of one-fifth each year will be fully established. This method further possesses the great advantage that it will leave the personnel of the reformed Senates unchanged, except by deaths and resignations, for the first three years of their existence, during which they will be engaged in carrying out the various reforms now contemplated. The necessary legal machinery is provided by clause 12 of the Bill.

5. The privilege of electing Fellows was conceded on a limited scale to the Graduates of the Calcutta University in 1891. This was admittedly an experiment; and that phrase was applied to it by the then Chancellor both in official letters and in public speech. No pledge of continuance was given, and the exercise of the privilege which, of course, possessed no statutory basis, was subject to the approval of the Governor General in Council, to whom the names of the Fellows elected are submitted for final sanction. The same privilege was extended somewhat later under similar conditions to the Universities of Madras and Bombay. In the case of each of the Universities of Allahabad and the Punjab the Act of Incorporation provides for the election of Fellows by the Senate, subject to the approval of the Chancellor. The Commissioners propose that the privilege conferred upon the older Universities should be confirmed by legislation, and that power should further be taken to introduce election by Graduates at Allahabad and Lahore. These proposals have been carefully considered, and the conclusions at which the Government of India have arrived are embodied in clause 6 of the Bill.

6. Where the Graduates are to elect, the composition of the electorate requires careful consideration, and by clause 7 of the Bill it is proposed to restrict the right of voting to the following three classes :—

(a) Graduates who have obtained the highest existing degree in any Faculty;

(b) Graduates who have obtained two degrees, one of which must be in the Faculty of Arts;

(c) in the case of the Calcutta University, Graduates who obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts in or before the year 1867, when the degree of Master was first conferred.

The qualifications of candidates for election should, it is thought, be the same as those laid down for electors. Clause 7 of the Bill further provides that a register of Graduates shall be kept up in each University, that an annual fee of Rs. 2 shall be paid by those whose names and addresses are entered in it, and that persons whose names are not on the register shall not be allowed to vote. The method of voting will be determined by regulations made under clause 25. Clause 13 proposes that existing Fellows who are not appointed or elected to be members of the newly constituted Senates, shall be Honorary Fellows for life, shall take precedence in Convocations next to the Vice-Chancellor, and shall retain any rights that they may now possess of participating in the election of a member of any Legislative Council or municipal body, but they will not be members of the Senate or otherwise take any active part in the business of the University. The composition of the reformed Senates which the measure, if it is passed, will call into existence, is shown in the following statement :

(1) Ex officio Fellows, not more than 10.

(2) Ordinary Fellows holding office for five years :—

(a) Fellows elected by the general body of registered Graduates or by the Senate.	10 at Calcutta, Bombay and Madras. 8 in the Punjab and at Allahabad.
(b) Fellows elected at the discretion of the Chancellor by the Faculties.	Not more than 10 in Calcutta, Bombay and Madras. Not more than 7 in the Punjab and at Allahabad.
(c) Fellows nominated at the Chancellor's discretion.	The remainder, subject to the maximum aggregate of Ordinary Fellows, which is— 100 at Calcutta, Bombay and Madras. 75 in the Punjab and at Allahabad.

7. The executive business of each University is conducted by a standing Committee of the Senate, called the Syndicate. It is now proposed that the Syndicate should be recognised by law as the executive authority of the University ; that it should consist of not less than 9 and not more than 15 members ; that the Director of Public Instruction should be ex officio a member ; and that the Faculties of the University should be represented on the Syndicate, half or nearly half of the representives of each Faculty being always Heads or Professors of Colleges.

Affiliation of Colleges.

8. Perhaps the most important of the functions which the reformed Universities will have to discharge, namely, that of making recommendations to the Government for the affiliation or disaffiliation of Colleges, is dealt with in clauses 19 to 24 of the Bill. On the proper exercise of this power depend the prospects of University education in India. Great laxity has prevailed in the past in this respect, and the Bill aims at providing a more satisfactory procedure.

9. The main purpose of the Bill is to confer upon the Universities a working constitution, and to invest them with the general powers which are required to enable them to control and supervise higher education in accordance with the principles and policy approved by the Government of India. It follows from this that a number of subjects which were discussed at length by the Commission receive no specific mention in the substantive clauses of the Bill, but are reserved to be dealt with by regulation under clause 25.

10. It is essential that the settlement of the local limits or sphere of influence of a University, being a matter in respect of which the interests of other Universities may happen to conflict, should be under the control of the Government of India, and the requisite power is taken by clause 27 of the Bill.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1903.

THE most noticeable feature of the weather conditions in October was the heavy rainfall over almost the whole Province, but more especially in the south-western districts. The average fall in Orissa was 12 inches, in Chota Nagpur nearly 9 inches, in Bengal Proper between 6 and 7 inches, and in Bihar nearly 6 inches. These falls were all largely in excess of the normal for the month, except in East Bengal, where the excess was only half an inch. In Chota Nagpur the fall was three times the normal, and in Bihar and Orissa about double.

That unusually late rainfall was caused by two cyclonic storms, one at the beginning of the month, the other at the close: storms differing very greatly as regards place of formation, development and line of advance.

To the correct understanding of the circumstances connected with the earlier of these two disturbances, it is necessary to recall that while the monsoon current was exceptionally weak over the Bay, and fine weather was more or less general not only over the Bay but also in Northern India, unsettled weather began in the north-east. That unsettled weather was first shown by heavy rainfall in the Darjeeling Himalayas towards the end of September and extending from there south-westward over Bengal was immediately followed by the formation of a cyclonic storm over Lower Bengal. A few days later a second depression formed over the north of the Bay or entered that area from Burma. These two depressions, the one late in September and the other early in October, are believed to be connected with the unsettled weather which had previously passed over Bengal southward, and that conditions were at that time exceptionally favourable for precipitation.

At the beginning of the month weather was still unsettled in the western districts owing to the earlier of the two disturbances referred to above. Rainfall was of daily occurrence in Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, and heavy falls occurred in Saran and Champaran on the 2nd and 3rd. In Bengal Proper rainfall had to a great extent ceased.

The second disturbance began over the north of the Bay on the 4th, and was a fairly well defined but not deep depression off the Orissa coast on the 5th. The greatest defect at that time was a quarter of an inch in the south of Orissa. The depression moved westward, but, contrary to what usually occurs in such disturbances, there was considerable further development after the central area was over the land. The pressure gradient was steep for the season in Bengal from the 6th to the 9th, and strong easterly winds prevailed.

Rainfall began on the 5th over the greater part of the Province, and continued at the majority of stations for about four days, with scattered showers for several subsequent days. The influence of the storm was still noticeable in the western districts on the 13th, but after that it had disappeared, unless a shallow depression which formed over Bengal about the 15th were a continuation of the previous depression. With this last mentioned slight depression showers continued in Bengal, and they were more general in the eastern districts. These showers were in nearly all cases unimportant, and after they ceased about the 19th, weather characteristic of the change of season set in.

Pressure was highest in the north of the Province and lowest in the south of the Bay, and northerly winds were most frequent at coast stations as well as inland.

With this change fine settled weather became general in Bengal and the north of the Bay, and shortly afterwards rainfall became more general in Madras.

The first disturbance of the north-east monsoon season began on the 27th October over the south of the Bay. It moved westward towards the Madras coast, and then turned northwards, crossing the coast near Coconada on the 29th. This recurring movement was continued inland. On the 30th the depression was crossing Orissa, and on the 31st it was entering Bengal Proper. As usually happens in such cases, rainfall was most heavy to the north-east of the central area and at a considerable distance from the centre. This was very marked on the 29th, when the central area was near Coconada and very heavy rainfall occurred in Orissa. On the 30th the heaviest rain fell in Lower Bengal and on the 31st in North Bengal, although on that day rainfall was more general in and near the central area than on the preceding days. Soon after the depression filled up and weather again became fine over the Province and the north of the Bay.

Pressure was more settled than usual in October over the Bay. The first cyclonic disturbance accompanied a depression which was of no great depth while over the Bay, but which intensified considerably inland. The second depression was deepest while over the south-west of the Bay, and became much shallower soon after it crossed the coast near Cocconada The chief feature with both of these depressions was the rainfall rather than the strong winds. The greatest defect in the former case was ·2 inch when the central area was crossing the Orissa coast, and in the latter case ·25 inch at Cocconada. Pressure on an average for the month was below the normal over the whole area, and by abnormally large amounts in the west of the Bay. This large defect is partly due to the low pressure during the two periods of disturbed weather, and partly to the fact that at other times pressure rarely exceeded the normal and then by insignificant amounts. The average defect for the month varies from ·03 inch in Burma to ·08 inch in Orissa and the Circars. In Bengal it is fairly uniform at about ·06 inch.

Temperature was higher during the night than is usual in October, and in the east of the Province, where rainfall was not so excessive, day temperatures were in small excess. In the western districts, owing to the continued heavy cloud during a great part of the month, very low day temperatures were registered, and the average maximum temperature is, at some of the extreme western stations, as much as 2° to 3° below the normal. The mean difference from the normal is generally small, except in Assam and the eastern districts of Bengal, where there is excess of 1° to 1°·4.

Rainfall, as already stated, was heavy and general in the early part of the month and again at the close. Owing to the course followed by the depressions, to which the rain was due, the falls were most heavy in the western districts, over the whole of which two to three times the normal amount was received. In the western districts rain was of almost daily occurrence at all stations during the first ten days of the month, and scattered showers fell for several days more. Showers again fell in the third week, but these were insignificant in amount, and then on the 29th a heavy general downpour began in Orissa and extended north eastward into Bengal as the depression advanced from the south-west. The rainfall at the close of the month was general over the Province, except in some of the western districts of Bihar, where only a few light scattered showers fell.

The average fall in Orissa was 12 inches, nearly double the normal; in Chota Nagpur 8·8 inches, more than three times the normal; and in Bihar 5·7 inches, more than double the normal. In Bengal Proper there was everywhere excess except over a few narrow tracts of country near the eastern border. All the Assam stations report excess rainfall except Cherrapoonjee, which received little more than half the normal amount of 14 inches.

The following table gives a comparison between the actual monthly and total rainfall and the normal rainfall of the Province up to the end of October in the same form as has been employed in the previous monthly abstracts of the present year. The figures represent the ratio of the rainfall of each month of the present year to the normal rainfall expressed as a percentage. The table thus gives a condensed summary of the rainfall data of the year for each meteorological division. The first ten columns give the percentage amount of rainfall received in each month, and the last column the percentage rainfall of the whole period from the 1st of January to the end of October :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

13. On the date specified in the notification issued under rule 11, or on any other date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the entries which have been made in the khewat and in each khatian shall be read out in the presence of such of the interested parties as are in attendance. If the correctness of any entry is questioned, the Revenue Officer shall dispose of the objection after local enquiry or otherwise: provided that if the correctness of the measurement be objected to, and a fresh measurement be demanded, the Revenue Officer may require the cost of the remeasurement to be deposited. If the measurement shows the original measurement to have been inaccurate, the amount deposited or any portion of it, may, if the Revenue Officer thinks fit, be refunded to the objector.

14. The Revenue Officer shall ascertain what raiyats claim the right to hold at fixed rates or fixed rents. If the right claimed is disputed by the landlord, the Revenue Officer shall call on the claimants for proofs of such right. He shall also see that for record-of-rights in regard to Mundari Khunt-khattidari tenancies referred to in section 2 (2) (g) and (h) of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy (Amendment) Act of 1903, the special procedure prescribed by the new sections added to Act I (B.C.) of 1879 by section 47 of the amending Act of 1903 is observed.

If after such explanation a cultivator admits that he is a non-occupancy raiyat in respect of any of those lands he shall be recorded as such in respect of the lands regarding which he makes such admission. If he does not admit himself to be a non-occupancy raiyat, the Revenue Officer shall call on the landlord to prove the allegations made by him in regard to such cultivator.

He shall also ascertain and record what lands are bhuinhari or khuntkatti referred to in section 19 of that Act.

17. The Revenue Officer shall summarily ascertain the tenant's present rent, and record it in the appropriate column of the khatians as the rent payable in respect of the land held by the tenant

V.—Publication of the Draft Record.

20. (a) As soon as the record-of-rights has been prepared and attested, a notice shall be posted up at the landlord's office in the village or, in the presence of not less than two persons, in some conspicuous place in the village, stating that the draft of the record will be published in the village on a day to be specified, not less than a week from the date of the posting of such notice, and calling on all persons interested to attend on the date so specified: provided that the draft of the record shall not be published until the proceeding under rule 19 has been recorded. The Revenue Officer shall receive and consider any objection which may bemade to any entry during the period named.

VI.—Disposal of Objections under section 103A.

21. When an objection is made within and before the expiry of the period of publication of the draft records prescribed under rule 20 (b) regarding the correctness of any entry or as to the propriety of any omission, notice of the objection shall be served on all persons whose interests may, in the opinion of the Revenue Officer, be affected thereby, and they shall be called upon to attend at such time and place as the Revenue Officer may fix for the the disposal of the objection. If no person attends to contest the objection, the objection may be allowed and the records amended accordingly, or the person who made the objection may, if the Revenue Officer thinks fit, be called upon to produce evidence in support of his objection.

All such objections shall be dealt with summarily under such instructions as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

VII.—Final Publication of the Record-of-rights.

If no person attends to contest the objection, the record may be amended accordingly, or the person who made the objection may, if the Revenue Officer thinks fit, be called upon to produce evidence in support of his objection.

21. When all objections have been disposed of by the Revenue Officer, he shall record such corrections and additions, if any, as are required to carry out the orders passed in regard to these objections. He shall then finally frame the record, and cause it to be published by notifying that its contents will be read out in the village on a date to be specified not less than a week from the date of such notice, and by reading it out himself or causing it to be read in the village on the date so specified, in the manner prescribed in rule 19 in the presence of the parties or of so many of them as attend.

22. (a) The Revenue Officer having completed the record shall cause copies of it to be made, one of which, or extracts from which, will be made over to the landlord concerned or, where there are more landlords than one, to their common agent or common manager, as the case may be, and one to the Deputy Commissioner of the district.

(b) An extract from the record relating to his tenancy shall be given to every tenant under the seal of the Revenue Officer, and under the signature of an officer duly authorised by the Revenue Officer to give copies.

(c) Copies of the record or of extracts from the record supplied to landlords and tenants under this rule shall be given free or on payment according as, in the case of each local area, the Local Government may direct. When payment is required, the sums so recovered shall be adjusted against the expenses incurred on account of preparing the record.

23. The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, direct that a final report be written in English for each local area, estate or village for which a record has been prepared. The report will show—

(a) The number of tenants in such area and the total area of lands held by them distinguishing those subject to predial conditions and services and those not subject.

(b) A description of the predial conditions and services and of the method in which their value has been commuted, if commutation has been ordered.

(c) The rents payable by the tenants before and after commutation.

(d) Any other facts deserving of notice affecting the area for which a record has been prepared.

(e) The cost of preparing the record in accordance with these rules.

If the area for which the record has been prepared exceeds the area of a village, a general report may be prepared as above for the whole area.

(1) renderable by the tenants jointly,

(2) renderable by a tenant proportionate to the nominal area of his holding, and

(3) renderable by a tenant irrespective of the extent of his holding.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M., of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payor from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12 The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:— No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1902-1903, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Offg. Secretary.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M., of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of ; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday ; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3 30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1902-1903, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes. and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

REVIEW ON THE PROGRESS OF EDUCATION IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1902-1903.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 30th November 1903.

RESOLUTION—No. 2983.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1902-1903.

The Report was submitted punctually by Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., C.I.E., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal. The Department was in charge of Mr. J. S. Slater up to the 23rd June, 1902, during Mr. Pedler's absence on deputation; and for the remainder of the year it was administered by Mr. Pedler.

2. The most noticeable features in the history of education in the Province during the year under review were the introduction of the new scheme of vernacular education in Primary and Secondary schools, one of the main features of which is that Indian boys are not allowed to learn English till they have been well grounded in their mother-tongue; the abolition of the system of remunerating teachers in Primary schools on the results of public examinations of their pupils, and the substitution for it of a system of remuneration according to results ascertained by inspection in situ; the extension of the education of girls and of Zanana ladies; and increase in the inspecting staff.

General statistics of institutions and pupils: primary and secondary education.

3. During the year under review, there was an increase of 2·9 per cent. in the total number of educational institutions of all classes, and of 5·2 per cent. in the total number of pupils. These figures are decidedly encouraging in view of the fact that, during the five years from 1897-98 to 1901-1902, the number of educational institutions decreased by 9 per cent. and the number of pupils by 0 4 per cent. It is noticeable that, though the number of High English schools increased by 19, the number of pupils attending them declined by 1,249. There was an increase in the number of Middle English schools, as also in the number of pupils attending them, accompanied by a corresponding decrease in the number of Middle Vernacular schools and of pupils at such schools; the tendency being, as Mr. Pedler observes, to convert Middle Vernacular schools into Middle English schools, and to develop the latter, in their turn, into High English schools.

Education of females.

4. The slow progress in the education of females in this Province was noticed with expressions of regret in the Resolution of last year. During the year under review, particular attention was paid to the backward state of this branch of education; and various steps have been taken by Government with the object of advancing and encouraging it, among which may be mentioned the establishment of model Primary schools in several districts, the opening of a High English school at Chittagong, and the appointment of Hindu and Muhammadan female teachers for the extension of Zanana education among Hindus and Muhammadans respectively. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that these measures have borne some fruit, and that, during the year under review, there has been a substantial increase both in the number of institutions for the education of females and in the number of pupils attending them. Gratifying, however, as this result is, the proportion of female scholars to the total number of girls of a school-going age (2·26) is still insignificant; and the Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees with the Director that it will require years of patient and continued effort before the education of females in Bengal is placed on a satisfactory footing. This object cannot be attained unless the efforts of Government are supported by the public; and His Honour trusts that the leaders of the Hindu and Muhammadan communities will loyally assist the authorities in this matter. The fact that the attendance in Middle schools shows scarcely any signs of increase indicates the general reluctance displayed by parents to allow their daughters to continue their studies after they have reached a marriageable age. Hopeful signs are not, however, altogether wanting. In last year's Resolution, the want of educated female teachers, and the absence of a system for teaching Zanana ladies, were noticed among the causes accounting for the slow progress of the education of females. With the object of supplying the former deficiency, classes for the purpose of training female teachers were opened, during the year under review, in several High English and Mission schools. As regards the advancement of Zanana education, a conference of experienced educational officers was held during the year to consider what measures could be taken in this direction, and a scheme was formulated by them. This scheme contemplated (1) that Zanana education should be based on a system acceptable to Native society, and be imparted through popular books of wholesome tendency, embodying Hindu and Muhammadan traditions; (2) that, in populous villages, small committees should be formed, to which respectable members of the orthodox classes of Hindus and Muhammadans should be appointed; and (3) that female teachers, working under the orders of these committees, should be appointed to teach Zanana ladies in the villages. Since the close of the year, these proposals have been approved, as an experimental measure, by the Lieutenant-Governor, and some progress has already been made in giving effect to them at selected places in the Province.

Muhammadan education.

5. The backwardness of Muhammadan education has, hitherto, been the subject of unfavourable comment on the part of Government; but the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that, during the year under review, there was an increase of 5·8 per cent. in the number of Muhammadan pupils under instruction, as compared with an increase of 5·2 per cent. in the total number of pupils of all religions. This is at least a hopeful sign, and His Honour trusts that it may indicate a real and lasting awakening on the part of the community to the advantages of education.

Collegiate education.

6. The total number of Arts colleges in Bengal during the year under review was 45, as against 44 in the previous year; while the number of students declined from 8,150 in the year 1901-1902 to 8,030 in the year 1902-1903.

7. In the F.A. examination, the number of candidates fell from 3,645 to 3,579 (a decrease of 1·8 per cent.), while the percentage of successes showed a decline of 15·9. The total number of candidates for the B.A. examination was 1,711, as against 1,934 in the previous year; the number of successful candidates being 357, as compared with 439 in the previous year. At the B. Sc. examination, 19 candidates appeared, all from the Presidency College, Calcutta, of whom 8 were successful. The number of candidates at the M.A. examination was 190, as against 203 in the previous year; while 70 candidates passed, as against 84 in the previous year.

Secondary education.

8. The number of secondary schools for Indian boys increased from 2,428 in 1901-1902 to 2,441 in the year 1902-1903; while the number of pupils attending them fell, in the same period, from 2,41,268 to 2,40,696.

9. The most noteworthy event in the history of Secondary education during the year was the issue of orders to the effect (1) that, after the year 1904, the Middle Scholarship examination should cease to be held as a public examination; (2) that, in lieu of it, private examinations should be arranged for by masters and managers of schools, aided or, in some cases, replaced by officers of the Education Department, and that such examinations should be held in situ, in the case of each school, at the end of the primary stage of education; and (3) that promotions from class to class in schools should be decided by the masters and managers, subject to such control as is exercised at present in such matters by the inspecting officers of the Education Department.

10. During the year 1900-1901, commercial classes were opened in connection with five Government High schools; while elementary engineering, or technical, classes were opened in schools at various places where Technical schools were already in existence. After two years' working of the system, final examinations were held, for the first time, during the year under review. It is reported that, though the results were on the whole satisfactory, the teaching of most of the subjects leaves room for considerable improvement: steps are, it is stated, being taken to carry out the necessary reforms.

11. With the object of educating public opinion and of utilizing all the public spirit which exists in the cause of education, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctioned, during the year, a scheme for the formation of school committees similar to those existing in the Central Provinces. It was decided that all Secondary schools, managed by Government or by District Boards and Municipalities, should have Visiting Committees, on which local residents, adequately representing the classes from which the students are drawn, should be invited to serve. The functions of such committees will be to offer advice on the general management of the schools, and their recommendations will be duly considered by the school authorities and the officers of the Education Department. Inasmuch as most of the Secondary schools, which are aided by Government, already have committees of management, it was considered sufficient to lay down, in the case of these schools, that the existing committees should be maintained, and that the members who serve on them should be selected so as to represent all classes of the community. The formation of committees for Upper Primary schools for boys was also approved; but it was deemed inexpedient to press a similar proposal in the case of Lower Primary schools. In addition to the development of the committees just referred to, it is proposed to legalize the status of the existing District Committees of Education, which have already been constituted, in most districts, in connection with the working of the District Boards, and to provide for the appointment to such Committees of a certain proportion of residents of the district who are not members of the District Boards. The object of the latter provision is to ensure that all classes of the community shall be represented, and the District Boards have been asked to consider whether, if the proposed measure is passed, they should not appoint among the members, who do not belong to their own body, representatives of important minorities and associations, or specialists, so that all persons interested in the cause of education may have a voice in the educational policy of the district.

Technical and industrial education.

12. Technical education is imparted at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, the Bihar School of Engineering, the Survey Schools at Dacca, Cuttack, and Angul, and also at schools affiliated to the Sibpur Civil Engineering College. In all these institutions, except the Bihar School of Engineering, there was an increase in the number of students. There were 25 industrial schools in existence during the year with an attendance of 701 students, as compared with 26 schools with 756 students in the previous year. Pending the orders of the Government of India on the report of the Committee on Industrial and Technical schools, which have recently been received, it was not thought advisable to enter upon any new developments in respect of these two classes of schools.

Primary education.

13. During the year under review, the number of Primary schools increased by 3·2 per cent., and the number of pupils attending them by 6·1 per cent. The advance made, though not great, is satisfactory, and is due to the fact that considerable assistance has been afforded to District funds out of the ten lakhs Education grant which has been made over to this Government by the Government of India.

14. During the year, an important change was introduced in the system of remunerating teachers in Primary schools. These schools were formerly subsidised either by fixed stipends, or by rewards based on examinations held in situ, or by fixed stipends combined with rewards based on examination results. According to the present arrangements, on the other hand, aided schools will receive a monthly subsistence allowance, which will be supplemented by remuneration to be paid at the close of the year, the amount of this annual grant being determined, in the case of each school, by (1) the number of pupils in regular attendance, (2) the efficiency of the teacher and of his teaching, (3) the state of the school-house and its appurtenances, (4) the income from fees, and (5) the state of education in the locality.

15. With the object of advancing primary education, a scheme for the establishment, at the head-quarters of each subdivision, of a Training school for the training of teachers in Primary schools, was sanctioned during the year. Such schools have been already opened in 79 subdivisions, and steps are being taken to establish the remainder before the close of the present year. These schools will, it is estimated, train at least 1,340 teachers every two years, and, in course of time, all Primary schools will thus be provided with duly qualified teachers.

16. In accordance with the wishes of the Government of India, an attempt has been made to open a certain number of "Continuation" schools, the object aimed at being to enable students to complete their education in branches of study which may either have been neglected or not attempted by them. It is reported that the schools of this class which have, hitherto, been established, are, strictly speaking, Primary schools held at night, which provide instruction in elementary subjects to day-labourers and others who are debarred from attending Primary schools in the day-time. It is, however, hoped that some of these schools may, in the course of time, develop into Continuation schools in the proper sense of the term.

17. It was recently remarked, in the Resolution of this Government, reviewing the working, during the year 1902-1903, of the municipalities in Bengal (except Calcutta), that the expenditure incurred by municipalities on primary education represented 2·7 per cent. of their ordinary income. It was pointed out that this expenditure falls short of the standard of 3·2 per cent. prescribed by Government, but it was stated that proper attention was being paid to the necessity for making suitable provision for primary education as funds allow.

Hostels.

18. The Director has drawn special attention to the backwardness of this Province as regards the establishment of hostels for boys whose parents or relations do not reside near the colleges or schools attended by them, and to the highly beneficial influence exercised by such institutions. Mr. Pedler adds that, inasmuch as hostels are primarily intended for students who come from the mufassal in order to obtain their education in cities and towns, District Boards might, if the matter were brought to their notice, recognize the desirability of contributing towards the cost of building and equipping mufassal hostels. This subject, the importance of which in respect of moral influence cannot be overestimated, will be separately considered.

Inspection.

19. Instances of remissness on the part of certain inspecting officers were commented upon in last year's Resolution, and orders were passed to the effect that these short-comings should not be allowed to recur. It is disappointing, therefore, to find that not a few Sub-Inspectors of Schools again, during the period under review, failed to spend the prescribed number of days on tour: His Honour must insist upon the orders on the subject being enforced in future.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor thanks Mr. Pedler very heartily for his administration of the Department, and for the keen interest displayed by him in dealing with the many important educational questions which have, of late years, occupied attention.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. EARLE,

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 5232Mis.—The 5th December 1903.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the following revised rules shall be substtiuted for Rules 1, 4, 5, 10 and 11 of the Rules for the regulation of appointments in the Secretariat Clerical Service of the Government of Bengal and attached offices published with Government Resolution No. 364T.—F., dated the 10th October 1894, at pages 2372–75 of the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th idem:—

1. The Clerical Service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal and of the attached offices will no longer be divided into two sections—the upper and the lower division. Promotion will, in future, be regulated throughout each office by seniority and merit combined. The head of the office will, however, retain the power of introducing outsiders into appointments requiring special experience or fitness when they cannot be suitably filled by promotion in the office itself. In the Bengal Secretariat (proper) which has a special cadre for Europeans and Eurasians, promotion and appointment to that cadre will be regulated by the following conditions:—

(a) Forty appointments hereinafter called the Special Cadre will be specially reserved in the Secretariat for Europeans and Eurasians. These appointments are the following:—12 for the departments under the Chief Secretary, 9 for those under the Revenue Secretary, 9 for those under the Financial Secretary, and 10 for those under the Secretaries in the Public Works Department. This special cadre is exclusive of the appointments of Registrar, and on the occurrence of a vacancy in those appointments Government reserves to itself the right to appoint to it any one either from the general or special cadres or from outside the Secretariat establishment.

(b) This special cadre will consist of the following appointments to be reserved in each grade:—

		Salary.	Number of appointments to be reserved.
		Rs.
Grade	I	400	3
,,	II	300	3
,,	III	200	5
,,	IV	150	5
,,	V	125	6
,,	VI	100	3
,,	VII	80	4
,,	VIII	70	5
,,	IX	60	6

(c) The number of posts likely to be vacant in the special cadre will be advertised along with other Secretariat posts.

(d) The educational standard required of candidates for the special cadre who are not already in the service of Government and otherwise qualified, will be the F.A., the High School Pass, or the Cambridge Senior Local examination. European and Eurasian candidates possessing these qualifications who have passed the Clerkship examination will, subject to condition (h), be eligible only for vacancies in the special cadre to which they will have a preferential claim. If, however, at any time no such candidate is available, the vacancy will be filled either by a person already in the service of Government who is otherwise qualified, or by an outsider possessing the prescribed educational qualifications.

(e) Should the number of passed candidates who fulfil the prescribed conditions exceed the number of appointments vacant, the Chief Secretary will make the necessary selection.

(f) In making promotions, the special cadre as a whole, and not the appointments reserved for each department separately, will be taken into consideration.

(g) In the case of a vacancy occurring in the lowest (IXth) grade, the head of the department concerned will make the appointment. In other cases the vacancies will be reported to the Chief Secretary who, after consultation with the head of the department concerned, will make appointments to them.

(h) Promotion in the several grades of the special cadre will be regulated by seniority up to the Rs. 100 grade, and after that will be decided according to merit; provided that, in filling an appointment in any grade above the Rs. 100, the Chief Secretary may introduce any European or Eurasian, whether already in the service of Government or not, whom he may think suitable for the post.

(i) First admission to the special cadre will ordinarily be into the lowest grade, provided that any person who is already in the service of Government and is otherwise eligible may be appointed to any vacancy.

4. Except in the case of European or Eurasian candidates for the special cadre of the Secretariat (proper), candidates who have passed the Entrance examination of an Indian University will alone be admitted to the examination. In the case of European and Eurasian candidates for the special cadre of the Secretariat (proper), only such persons as have passed the First Arts examination of an Indian University, the High School Pass, or the Senior Cambridge Local examination will be admitted to the examination. Every candidate for an appointment must send a written application for permission to appear at the examination to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners between the date of issue of the notification announcing the number of vacancies to be competed for (vide rule 6) and the sunset of the 15th day of December, (inclusive).

5. The application under the last rule should be in the form given in the margin, and must be accompanied by a treasury receipt for the sum of Rs. 10. This sum the candidate is required to pay into the treasury nearest his place of residence by way of examination fee.

[FORM.]

(5) A statement whether the candidate has appeared at any previous Clerkship examination, and, if so, in what year.

10. One-third of the vacancies in each office, exclusive of the number of appointments reserved for Europeans and Eurasians, may be filled up by the head of the office from the registered apprentices or by the appointment of outsiders. The remainder will be reserved for the successful candidates at the Clerical Service examination. If, however, such a candidate is not available for any vacancy, it will be at the disposal of the head of the office.

11. Appointment of men not in the list of successful candidates of the Clerical Service shall, if the person appointed is not already in Government service, be made subject to the conditions that such person—

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M., of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the ext nt of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10 Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorised agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:— No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1902-1903, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.
